U.S. MUST TAKE PART IN GENOA MEET--TROTSKY

Conference Will be Failure Unless U. S. Enters "With Heavy Hand" Declares Soviet War Minister

LENINE MAY HEAD RUSSIA'S DELEGATION AT THE MEETING

Announcement is Made of List of Delegates Who Will Represent Soviet

MOSCOW, Jan. 17.—By The Associated Press.—The prediction was made by Leon Trotsky, soviet minister of war, in an interview today, that the coming Genoa conference will be a failure "unless the United States enters it with a heavy hand" and makes possible the finding of the center of the world's political equilibrium. "This, he added, was just as difficult a task as it was for Archimedes to find the center of gravitation."

Trotsky's interview, granted to the foreign correspondents here, was the first of an authorized nature he had given since the change in Russia's economic policy.

"America's attitude toward soviet Russia is enigmatic," continued Trotsky. "She helps us more than any other nation in feeding the famine sufferers, but refuses to voice her political attitude. We are watching this with regard, and hope her attitude will change."

Lenine May Attend

Either Lenine or former Minister Chicherin will head the Russian soviet delegation to the Genoa economic conference, it was officially announced.

The other members of the delegation are officially listed as:

Leonid Krassin, soviet minister of trade and commerce.

M. Bakosky, head of the Ukrainian soviet, and member of the Russian soviet central committee.

Maxim Litvinoff, chief of soviet legations abroad.

Adolph Joffe, Russian negotiator at numerous previous conferences abroad.

M. Shliapnikoff, former commissar of labor.

M. Sapronoff.

M. Vorovsky, soviet commissar to Italy.

WISCONSIN GETS BACK OF MOVEMENT FOR WATERWAY FROM LAKES TO THE SEA

BONUS TO WAIT ON PASSAGE OF ALLIED DEBT FUNDING BILL

Republicans in Conference Agree to Push Allied Debt Bill First

SECRETARY MELLEN TO PRESENT BONUS FIGURES TO CONGRESS

Compile Memorandum Giving Facts of Financial Situation

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Decision to press first the allied debt refunding bill and next a soldiers' bonus bill was reached Wednesday by republican senators in their first conference of this session of congress. A second conference was called for Thursday to discuss details of the two measures.

Opposition to a soldiers' bonus bill developed but it was announced officially that the motion to place this legislation second in the list was carried "by a large majority." Dilming by the finance committee of the requirement in the allied debt bill for semi-annual payment of interest on the bonds to be accepted from the foreign debtor nations also was discussed but a decision on this feature of the bill was deferred.

It was reported that the vote in favor of passing a bonus bill was 31 to 2, with several opponents of such legislation withholding their votes. While the conference did not approve the pending bill some republican leaders said the measure to be passed undoubtedly would follow the general principles of the measure now before the finance committee.

Mellen to Give Bonus Facts

Treasury experts were said Wednesday to be at work on a memorandum which Secretary Mellon will submit to congress setting forth the facts of the government's financial situation as they bear on the subject of a soldiers' bonus.

Secretary Mellon, it was said, has not altered his views that passage of legislation for soldier compensation should await the arrival of better conditions, but the memorandum was expected to confine itself to a statement of statistical information.

Members of the finance committee of congress, it was indicated, will be given a tabulated list of obligations which would fall on the government in the event of a depletion of the proposed legislation, and estimates of available sources of revenue. While Mr. Mellon may prevent various means of raising revenue it was not believed by high officials that the treasury would recommend a specific plan for providing funds to defray the expense of a soldiers' bonus.

GERMAN REPULSE AT MARNE LAID TO LACK OF TOUCH WITH STAFF

Lost Contact With Headquarters and Retreat Was Ordered, Says Kuhl Commentary

BERLIN.—Failure of the German troops to keep in touch with headquarters during the last phases of the advance upon Paris in 1918 was the cause of the German repulse, and the "miracle of the Marne," this assertion is made by General von Kuhl, who has written a commentary upon the government's decision to make public the war achievements.

First Lieut. Hentsch was sent to the first and second German armies with orders from the general staff which were intended to inform the commanders of the advancing troops of plans reached at headquarters. The lieutenant's failure to reach the battle zone, General von Kuhl declared, led to a retreat and the second German army followed. Lieut. Hentsch arrived after the retreat was in progress. The action of the German command the general declares "left the French, who had been beaten, joyfully surprised and astounded."

POLICE COMMISSION LAUDS M'GRATH FOR ARRESTING AUTOISTS

The police department and especially Detective Joseph McGrath, was praised for his untiring work in bringing about the arrest of Thor Sebion and Martin Nundahl, occupants of the automobile that ran down and killed George Hoffman and his little son Andrew on Mormon College road on Dec. 11, in a resolution passed by the police and five commissioners at a meeting Tuesday afternoon. The resolution also states that the arrests were made after apparently unsurmountable obstacles were overcome, because of the lack of clues to aid the police in tracing the alleged occupants of the "death" car.

SENATE VOTES FOR FARMER ON RESERVE BOARD

Kellogg-Smith Bill Increasing Membership of Board is Approved Tuesday by 63 to 9 Vote

PLAN MEETS WITH OPPOSITION FROM THE EASTERN SENATORS

Passage of Bill Regarded as Victory for "Agricultural Bloc"

WASHINGTON.—It remained for the house Wednesday to complete enactment of the bill passed by the senate to give farmers representation on the federal reserve board. The Kellogg-Smith compromise bill, increasing the appointive membership of the board from five to six and providing that the agricultural interests shall have a spokesman among them, was approved by the senate late Tuesday by a vote of 63 to 9, the opposition including seven republicans and two democrats.

Wiping out by amendment the clause of the federal reserve act providing specifically for the naming of two bankers to the board, the bill would substitute a provision directing the president in making appointments to have due regard to a fair representation of the financial, agricultural, industrial and commercial interests and geographical division of the country.

Passage of the bill is regarded as a signal victory for the "agricultural bloc" and even the hour late members of that group of senators smiled at their "victory" on a bill that Senator McLean, the chairman of the committee on banking and currency, had warned them would in no wise lessen the financial status of the agricultural class.

Opposed in East

The nine senators who voted against the bill were Brannan, Cullender, Edgely, McLean, Moses and Wadsworth, all republicans from the east and Pomerehne and Williams from the democratic side. One other demoralized member of the senate, Lodge, and Underwood, the senate floor leaders, were not in the chamber.

The senate by a vote of 43 to 23 rejected an amendment to the bill which forbids any federal reserve bank to erect a building costing more than $250,000 without the consent of congress. It was specified that this restriction does not apply to buildings now under construction.

The final vote was preceded by a five hour debate, in the course of which Senator Glass, concluded his speech in defense of the federal reserve system and its governing board, while Senator Heflin of Alabama, who never loses an opportunity to denounce the federal reserve board, charged that the federal reserve board had adopted in 1920 a "badly and dangerously policy deflation," which policy, he charged, had wrecked the business life of the south and west and had resulted in the death by suicide of hundreds of farmers. Senator Glass, he asserted, was the only member of the senate who "would defend the federal reserve board and its policies."

WITNESSES FAIL TO APPEAR FOR SENATE INQUIRY

South Carolina Men Tells of Shooting of Prisoner by Sentry in France

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Four of ten witnesses summoned to appear Wednesday before a senate committee investigating charges that American soldiers were hanged without trial in France, failed to appear.

Harry K. Walpole of New York city, told the committee that while in the air service in France, he was transferred to another station, the name of which he did not remember, and in passing through Paris was picked up and put in prison as "a lost and found person." Walpole said he was forced to sign a card stating he was a prisoner.

Champ E. Martin of Saneen, S. C., standing six feet 7 1/2 inches in his socks, told of the shooting of Frank Abeneck, a prisoner, by a sentry in France. The prisoner, he said, was lying down and was shot as he started to turn over. An order to shoot the prisoner if he moved, was given, the witness said, by Sergeant William L. Borne, who was never tried.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—With a total of $108,297,500 in excess of appropriations for the same offices for the current fiscal year the annual independent offices appropriation bill, carrying $494,804,235, was reported Wednesday by the house appropriations committee. The amount recommended in the bill, however, is $2,520,475 less than the amount requested in the budget bureau estimate.

CARNIVAL QUEEN CONTEST WILL CLOSE FRIDAY NIGHT

Large Delegation of Boosters Goes to Winona Today

Miss Cora Larson ..... 9.075
Miss Josephine Upton ..... 6.384
Miss Florence McPherson ..... 5.429

We are going to have a circus with the carnival.

Chairman Harry O. Williams announced today, just before hearing the train for Winona with his bunch of carnival boosters that the committee has engaged Miller's animal circus to give free acts on the street during the four days of the carnival.

The circus consists of a bear, monkey, mule, three horses and a clown. The animals are all trained performers and the clown is said to be a real comedian. The circus will be on the streets day and night and will give a number of shows each day of the carnival.

The carnival committee announced today that over 1,400 buttons were sold in the two hours' campaign on Tuesday. A brisk demand for the buttons is expected during the remaining days before the carnival opens, as the button will admit the wearer to all carnival festivities.

Closes Friday Night

Mr. Williams said today that the carnival contest, positively will close at 9 o'clock, Friday night. No re-mittances will be received by mail or otherwise after that hour.

Headed by Joe Berling's drum corps, a delegation of over fifty carnival boosters paraded through the downtown streets shortly before 11 o'clock Wednesday morning and boarded a Milwaukee train for Winona, where the afternoon will be spent advertising the carnival. Stick and span in handsome new uniforms, the carnival boosters gave pedestrians a pleasing show as they marched to the depot.

Prepare for Races

A comprehensive horse racing program covering three days of the carnival and participated in by about fifteen horses will be arranged by the carnival sports committee at a meeting to be held at carnival headquarters in the Security bank building tonight at 8 o'clock.

The committee has abandoned the river course for the races and has started work of placing the straightaway in Riverside park in order. The races will be started at the head of the park with the course terminating at Pearl street, according to announcement of Charles Dittman, head of the fireworks display and horse racing program.

It is planned at the meeting tonight to arrange the program and classify the entries for the events. The purse of $500 for the races will be distributed for the various events planned, it was said. The committee reports that to date eight horses have been entered and it was expected that at least an additional eight would be entered. Entries in the hands of the committee at this time are from local horsemen, it was announced.

In addition to arranging the race program this evening, action was expected to be taken in an effort to permit mail race for the balance of the winter.

The committee announced that a complete program of the races to be held during carnival week would be published later. All horsemen and others interested in the races were invited to be present at the meeting tonight.

U. S. TO PRESENT PLAN TO REGULATE CHINESE RAILWAY

Would Bring Roads Under General Rules to Prevent Discrimination

DISCUSS PROPOSAL FOR APPLYING OPEN DOOR PRINCIPLE IN CHINA

American Plan Revised at Request of Britons

WASHINGTON, D. C.—By The Associated Press.—The American proposal to re-define the open door policy in China and to create an international board to examine both existing and future concessions which appear to conflict with it was adopted in part Wednesday by the far eastern committee of the Washington conference. The portion adopted included the general statement as to equality of opportunity in China for trade and industry of all nations; the agreement by which the eight powers declare their acceptance of that principle and the provision for creation of the international board.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The American delegation, it was stated authoritatively Wednesday is expected to lay before the Washington conference another far eastern resolution which will relate to Chinese railways, the purpose being to bring the roads so far as possible under general rules operating to prevent discrimination in favor or against the nationals of any particular country.

Extended discussion of the American proposal to "apply more effectively the principle of the open door in China," was in prospect when the far eastern committee of the arms conference resumed consideration of the subject.

Revised at the suggestion of the British delegation to provide for an international board of reference to review present and future concessions to determine whether they conflict with the open door policy as re-defined in the original draft of the resolution presented by Secretary Hughes, the proposal already has been given the approval of that delegation "as it stands" while the delegates of Italy have announced adherence in principle.

The resolution, briefly, would bind the represented powers not to seek special spheres of influence nor secure economic and commercial opportunity, while China, on her part, would undertake to co-operate in maintaining that equality.

TIGHT BOARD FENCE TO ENCLOSE JURY BOX IN COURT HERE

THEY'RE going to erect a barricade around the jury box in the circuit court room. Not a ver' ver' high one, but nevertheless a barricade.

The February term of circuit court opens February 6. There will be 17 women and 10 men on the panel. All of which means that La Crosse will see its first mixed jury on or shortly after that date.

At present the jury "box" consists of two rows of six chairs, securely fastened to the floor, with the first row raised a few inches above the floor and the row against the wall raised nearly a foot above the first row. The only thing that shuts out the view of the floor of the jury "box" now is a brass railing, about six inches from the floor.

Tuesday afternoon Lewis Knudson, carpenter, inspected the "box" with a view to enclosing the front and side with a tight board fence, 30 inches high. The view of the interior of the jury "box" will be obscured.

It also is planned to put in a new table for the court reporter that will obscure the view of the lower half of the witness chair and platform.

The following represented Spring Grove: Marie Glasrud, Elmore Twilto and Glad Krome. Spring Grove had previously defeated Caledonia by a unanimous vote on the same question. ## ELIMINATE WASTE AND HELP JOBLESS URGES CONTRACTOR

Unemployment Will be Lessened by Better Management of Industry is Claim

HOOVER TO CALL NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF BUILDERS

Seeks to Simplify Varieties of Building Materials

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—Unemployment may be eliminated and business booms and depressions controlled by a consolidation of management in industry, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, told members of the national convention of the Associated General Contractors, Wednesday. Mr. Hoover is vice president of the American Engineering Council and chairman of the council's committee on elimination of waste in industry.

"It is unfortunate that in a country like the United States we should have idle men," he said, "when we have such rich resources and such demands for finished goods. A large proportion of this unemployment is due to waste and inefficiency."

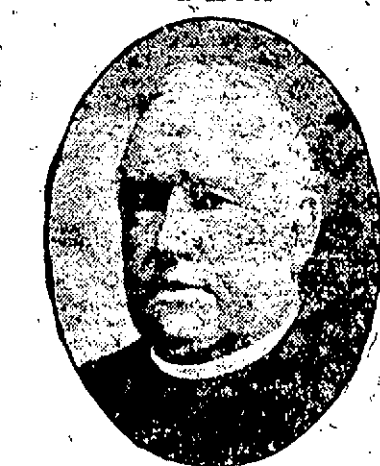

"The way in which the owners in industry may be of value in the elimination of waste," he added, "is in stabilizing production. They are the people more than anyone else, who can prevent or at least reduce the peaks and valleys of the boom and depression."

He cited soft coal mining as an example of a poorly organized industry. "It is over-equipped," he said, "both as regards plant and personnel and the soft coal miner, instead of being able to get 400 days of work as he should, gets, I believe, about 190, and this means that there are altogether too many men ready to mine coal and that part of them should be diverted to other industries and the balance assured regular and continuous work."

Secretary of commerce Hoover is planning a conference of architects, contractors and building material manufacturers and dealers to devise a plan for simplifying the varieties of materials which go into building construction, according to E. W. McCullough, of the Chamber of Commerce of the U. S., who addressed the convention. He secured a list of all the contractors attending, which, he said, he will turn over to Secretary Hoover as the chamber's recommendations for delegates to the proposed conference.

Purse is too Slim to Keep His Pets and Menagerie is for Sale

SOFIA.—King Boris of Bulgaria is the modern man with an elephant on his hands and he wants to sell part of his private menagerie to an American zoo of circus. In particular he would like to dispose of two elephants and several fine buffaloes which are now in the grounds of the summer palace near Sofia.

The menagerie was established by former Emperor Ferdinand and the appetites of the elephants and buffaloes are so great that King Boris is hard pressed to feed them out of his slender income. The elephants alone consume grain and hay which costs more than the outfit for food for the young sovereign's own table.

The king is much attached to the elephants and calls them his "little pets," but Bulgaria's purse is empty and so is the king's, and he cannot afford to keep them.

Offers to Buy
CINCINNATI, O.—When Sol Stetson, manager of the Cincinnati Zoo, was shown the dispatch stating that King Boris wishes to sell his private menagerie because of the expense of its upkeep, he sent a cablegram to the king saying he will buy the elephants and buffaloes. If their safe landing in New York is guaranteed.

CITY REPAIR SHOPS CLOSED IN CHICAGO EXPENSES TOO HIGH

Work Done There Cost 300 Percent More than Elsewhere Complain Aldermen

CHICAGO.—Chicago's $2,700,000 municipal repair shops have been closed as a failure, it became known following an investigation by a committee of aldermen, because city work done there "cost 300 percent of what it would have cost on the outside."

According to the report $5,113.97 was spent in repairing six small cars in the course of a year which was an average of more than twice the cost of the cars when they were new.

Some illustrations given in support of the charges that prices were excessive showed that a water valve which on the outside would cost $12, cost the city $85 in the shops; a bell for a police automobile motor which would cost $8 to $10 outside, cost the city $80 at the shops.

HIGH STUDENT OF SPARTA IS THE FIRST DIPHTHERIA VICTIM

Eleanor Mae Peters Dies Suddenly After Apparently Being on Road to Recovery

SPARTA, Wis.—Diphtheria claimed its first victim this year in Sparta in the death of Eleanor Mae Peters, senior in the local high school. Miss Peters had been ill for ten days with diphtheria, and the family had been quarantined. The girl made her home with her widowed mother, near the Milwaukee station. She was gradually recovering from the disease and every hope was held on for her final recovery. One morning last week, her mother prepared breakfast for her, but noticed that she seemed to be worse. She stepped out to call a neighbor to summon a physician. When she returned to the room, her daughter suddenly swooned in her arms and soon passed away. Her heart was weak, and death resulted from that.

She would have been nineteen in the spring. Her girlhood has been spent in and near Sparta and many friends mourn her untimely death. She was a member of the Congregational church and for some time has been a teacher in the primary department of the Congregational Sunday school.

Her mother and one brother, Walter, survive her. Members of the senior class acted as bearers. They were Ralph Farnham, Fred Lange, Hugh Williams, Ralph Steele, Kenneth Lawrence and Oscar Briske. Funeral services were held at the local cemetery, Rev. J. S. Morris, pastor of the Congregational church, conducting the service.

R. B. McCoy of Sparta has been appointed one of the Wisconsin executive committee of the Woodson Wilson Foundation. The foundation is being created by public subscription in recognition of the services of Mr. Wilson.

The Wesleyan Church club will enjoy a delightful Wednesday evening, after which supper will be served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davis. Meet at the A. E. association at six o'clock. Husbands and wives of the club members are invited. The program will follow the supper and a short business meeting will be held. The fine company has been kept busy these cold days, answering fire calls. The majority, however, have been of short duration, mostly chimney fires, and small damage has resulted.

ANNOUNCE ONE CENT CUT IN PRICES OF BREAD IN CHICAGO

Pound loaves now selling for ten cents will be sold for nine cents and twenty-four ounce bread now sold for fifteen cents will be sold for fourteen cents.

Chicago eats 1,200,000 loaves of bread a day, according to Boyle, and the public, therefore, will save $12,500 daily.

Preceding the announcement came the news Monday that eggs had dropped again, this time three cents a dozen. Storage eggs now sell for twenty-two cents a dozen and fresh eggs at from thirty-five to thirty-eight cents a dozen.

ARGUE RODD CASE BEFORE SUPREME COURT ON MONDAY

Question Pardon Power of Governor and also Right to Remove Constitutional Officer

Arguments in the case of Hans Rodd, sheriff of Oneida county, removed by Governor J. J. Blaine for disobeying an executive pardon order, were completed before the supreme court late Monday. Each side took three hours to present its case.

Two fundamental questions were brought before the court for determination, one whether the executive has pardoning power in contempt of court cases, the other whether the governor has the power of removing a constitutional officer without giving notice of charges and opportunity for the officer to be heard in his defense.

M. D. Olbrich, special counsel for the governor, and P. M. Wylie, attorney for Charles Asmundson, appointed by Governor Blaine to succeed

And This During Cold Winter Weather. Plan is Simple.
"I fed Don Sung to my 28 hens that were not laying. But they are laying now. I receive as high as 27 eggs a day and never less than 22."—Mrs. Jennie Davidson, Yates Center, Kan.
Mrs. Davidson wrote this letter in February. Figure her profit on two dozen eggs a day from hens that "wouldn't lay." We'll make you the same offer we made her. Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and puts you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.
Don Sung (Chinese egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It is guaranteed to get the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.
Don Sung can be obtained promptly from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send for a package by mail prepaid. Burzell-Buehler Co., 221 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Rodd, maintained that the executive had pardoning power in contempt cases and that he had the constitutional power to remove an elective and constitutional officer without proving that he had failed to perform his duty.

B. N. Goggins of Wisconsin Rapids, Chas. R. Bird of Wausau and C. P. Smith of Rhineland, argued that the governor has no pardon power in contempt cases and that the sheriff is responsible to the court and not the executive, who they claimed could not remove him without showing cause.

It is expected that the court will take some time before deciding the questions involved.

ASK CITIZENS TO AID IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST HOLD-UPS

List of "Don't" for Chicago Issued by Chief of Detectives

CHICAGO, Ill.—Michael Hughes, chief of detectives, made public Wednesday a list of "don'ts" for Chicago citizens who wish to assist him in making holdups and robberies unprofitable. The list follows:

Don't carry large sums of money or valuable jewelry at night.

Don't fail to be always on the alert for "sticker men" by anticipating them you may circumvent them.

Run if you have the opportunity, on being accosted.

Don't resist if caught unawares and the "don't" is on you.

"I say don't resist," the chief asserted, "because life is more valuable than money and most of the present day things will kill unhesitatingly. It is not a coward but a prudent man who runs away from robbers."

Chief Hughes said his don'ts would apply elsewhere as well as Chicago.

OFFERS UNEQUALLED OPPORTUNITIES FOR STATE DEVELOPMENT

cons has been in this fight from the start. She will remain in it until our victorious banners are carried from the field of victory. Forward is our motto."

Back Up Congressmen

"What remains for our organization is to meet now and meet vigorously the situation as it exists," said President H. C. Gardner of the Tidewater Association, Chicago. "We have come to the time of greatest activity. Every congressman and every senator must be backed up by his constituency. Our enemies are on the alert and amply financed. They realize they have lost the first line trenches, and they do not mean to lose the last line. We can administer a final defeat if we go over the top now, every man, woman and child at this session of congress."

"The nation can secure this great waterway, that will open the Mediterranean of America to the ships of the world, and pay for it with the hypodermic of power without any permanent investment to American and Canadian," asserted Prof. D. W. Mead, Madison. "Under such circumstances, can there be any question as to the feasibility and desirability of this project? If so, it may be mentioned that when this power is fully utilized it will save to America over 8,000,000 tons of coal or 200,000 car loads per year, thus reserving for future generations the exhaustible resources of coal and reducing the demand for coal transportation on our already overtaxed railway systems."

Move Northwest to the Sea

"If we disregard the water power element in this project, its desirability seems hardly less obvious. The cost of this project to the United States for its share in the expense will be less than the cost of the large canal to the state of New York. The St. Lawrence waterway will make the ports of Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio accessible to the sea, and virtually move the entire northwest 1,000 miles seaward, and it will—the speaker believes—save to the agricultural interests of the great northwest annually more than its total cost to say nothing of its benefits to manufacturers, various industries, and to the citizens of our republic."

"We have arrived at the time when, in our national economic life, water transportation must be made a part of our national system," said Secretary J. J. Blommer of the Association of Commerce, Milwaukee. "First, because as this great middle western territory grows it will be increasingly difficult for the carriers to take care of the commerce it will develop; second, because water transportation is very much cheaper, and third, because water transportation has not the terminal conditions and congestion to overcome. Once a cargo is loaded the boat travels on unimpededly until it reaches its port. It is true in the winter months ships are confronted by the perils of the weather, but the rail lines are also hampered by winter weather conditions and the movement of commerce is likewise interrupted."

Water Rates Lower

"The all water rate from Milwaukee to New York, first class, is $1.20; the all rail rate, $1.57, a saving of 28 cents per cent. The first class rate from Milwaukee to New Orleans in connection with the Mississippi river barge line is $1.90; the all ship rate, $2.26. Can anyone doubt the tremendous saving in transportation costs via the St. Lawrence river, all water route to all the ports of the world? Can anyone deny that the future prosperity of this great middle western section depends primarily upon adequate and efficient transportation facilities? Can anyone say that our present transportation system will ever meet this demand? I doubt if transportation charges will ever be low enough to enable this middle western section to successfully compete in the markets of the world."

As the morning session closed Judge Lamoreaux announced the appointment of the following delegates to draw up resolutions for presentation to congress:

Resolutions committee: C. J. Hartley, Superior, chairman; Harry Sautthoff, Madison; Senator Oscar Morris, Milwaukee; Mayor P. S. Dhooge, Ashland; Mayor Martin Georgensen, Manitowish; Regent C. S. Van Aken, La Crosse; Harold Smith, Racine; O. J. G. Borge, Eau Claire; M. F. Simmons, Fond du Lac, and E. W. Dupke, Beloit.

Roads Can't Meet Need

"Financially, the railroads of the United States are bankrupt," said Harry Sautthoff in opening the noon luncheon session. "The failure of the railroads to meet the demands of transportation during the war necessitated government control. The great cargoes of the country poured into New York and other Atlantic ports. Terminals became congested, the distribution of commodities ceased. In January, 1918, an embargo was declared. This helped matters temporarily but a little later the railways again broke down under the strain. In 1919 another embargo was declared. Wheat could not be transported east, and coal could not be transported west. There was a shortage of cars and no money for new equipment. Finally, the transportation act was passed, guaranteeing the railroads a profitable return under private management. An increase in rates was asked and received. The people of the United States paid 63 billions of dollars in secure transportation last year, and yet at the present time there is no amelioration of conditions. Freight rates are now so high that wheat cannot compete with foreign producers. The products west of Ohio and as far south as Oklahoma are without a market because of the high rates of rail transportation. Wheat, corn, meat, copper, iron, fruit, livestock, cotton and many other products are awaiting distribution. We must have relief."

Greatest Project in World

"The opening of our Great Lakes to ocean-going ships is the greatest economic project before the world today," declared Magnus Swenson, American representative of the Norwegian-American line. "It means the bringing of ocean transportation more than a thousand miles inland. It will make our lake cities ports of entry to the merchant fleets of the world."

"Our farmers are suffering grievously because of the excessive cost of sending their produce to market. The construction of this waterway will very materially reduce this cost of transportation and will be of the greatest benefit to our farmers."

"In this connection I was much impressed by a statement made by Governor Harding of Iowa in a speech I heard him make in New York. He said if a farmer in Iowa ships three carloads of corn to New York, it will take the entire value of two of the cars to pay the freight."

"The all-water route to Liverpool via the St. Lawrence is also considerably shorter than the rail and water route via New York. The distance from some lake ports being over 400 miles shorter."

"I venture the prediction that when our shipping industry can enjoy the clean and wholesome conditions of our great middle west it will take on new life and a truly American Merchant Marine will be created whose ships will proudly carry the stars and stripes throughout the seven seas."

Means Much to Farmers

"What freight rates do to farming," said H. L. Russell of this College of Agriculture, "could not be more forcibly portrayed than to note how the war and post-war increases in transportation have resulted in picking up any surplus food production region and moving it several hundred miles farther away from its natural market. When the farmers' produce was high, when corn was worth $1.75 a bushel, and hogs 15 to 20 cents a pound, live weight, the increased cost of this item was not so important, but with 8 cent hogs and 40 cent corn, the depletion of freight charges simply means that the economic geography of the great interior basin of the United States will have to be rewritten."

"This a recent illustration of what the Great Lakes Waterway means to inland United States. The emancipation of the agricultural surplus of the North American continent is in no small measure dependent on this improvement. The price of food grains in particular is largely determined by the world price. Liverpool gets the market price of wheat. What it will bring in Wisconsin or Montana or the prairies of the Saskatchewan is Liverpool price less the freight and middlemen's charges to get it there."

"While the mid-west farmer," said W. George Bruce, Milwaukee, "is interested in exports and the retailer in imports, the manufacturer is concerned in both exports and imports. The farmer must find an outlet for his surplus and the retailer must amply fill his shelves with consumers' needs, but the manufacturer looks for raw materials as well as for opportunities to market the finished product. He realizes, too, that the successful marketing of a surplus production constitutes the twilight zone between depression and prosperity."

Aid to Manufacture

"In measuring our interest in a more direct route to the sea and the great markets of the world, it develops that Wisconsin is, in a larger measure, a manufacturing state than is the average state in the union. While the country at large has a greater agricultural than manufacturing production, the conditions are almost reversed in Wisconsin. Here the output of the factory exceeds in money value the output of the farm."

"What are the possibilities? Looking at the head of the inland oceans, the Great Lakes, the ports of Wisconsin are in a strategic position to receive the diversified products of the most fertile and productive section of America and forward them direct to the markets of Europe. No lake state has more harbors, is more favorably located, or is destined to play a greater part in a new world trade project than the state of Wisconsin. None enjoys a more advantageous location, nor will any port be better equipped to receive and maintain an ocean commerce than those located on the Wisconsin shores."

"The use of what facilities we now have must be given serious consideration as well as the addition to those facilities we will have by the opening of the St. Lawrence gateway."

Owen, president of the Wisconsin Lakes and Parks Association, took members of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs on a trip through the proposed Northern Lakes Park Tuesday night, at a dinner at which the Kiwanians were the guests of the Rotarians in the Chamber of Commerce. Something over 200 men were present at the gathering.

Judge Owen—introduced himself by saying that he was back in La Crosse after an absence of twenty years, dating from the time he left his law office at Tenison—reminiscent as his text that Wisconsin is overlooking the development of one of her greatest natural resources in making an effort to preserve the natural beauty of its landscape for the attraction of tourists. Good roads, he said, and the accessibility of the state by these and by rail to great centers of population in the middle west, make this state a natural summer playground. By following the example of other states, such as California, Colorado, etc., Judge Owen said that the state and every community in it would reap great benefit. He pointed out that in California the annual value of the tourist trade exceeds that of the golden state's best five crops.

Voted by Governor

Judge Owen went briefly into the history of the Northern Lakes Park proposal, telling how it had at first been received hostilely by the legislature, but that after an investigation by a special committee it had passed by comfortable majorities in the last days of the session, only to be vetoed by the governor after the legislators had gone home. Wisconsin Lakes and Parks Association, he said, has undertaken to meet the situation this year and preserve this last region of primeval woods through the united action of the citizens of the state.

"We speak of the north woods," said Judge Owen, "but I would like to tell you gentlemen that they are already a thing of the past. The north woods are almost gone. You can go for miles in country that used to be thick forest, and see never a bunch of timber except undergrowth. The settlers find it cheaper to burn coal than wood."

Best Forest in State

Then Judge Owen told how the proposed park along the North Fork of the Plover River, and neighboring lakes, includes the largest tract of uncut timber in the state. It includes every variety of native trees, he said, many of them hundreds of years old and not a few towering more than a hundred feet in air. Owners of some of the land have made preparations for starting logging operations in the tract, he said, indicating that only prompt action would save this last wilderness preserve.

Green Queen Candidate

Miss Josephine Upton, carnival queen candidate, received a round of cheers and applause when she was presented to the crowd by her manager, Robert Andrews. Andrews attempted a speech but it didn't go very well because the cheering drowned him out. Enthusiasm for the queen, who finally rose, blushing and smiling, while the crowd applauded frantically. Another feature of the evening was a picture of pictures of members of both clubs with sardonic verse and "wise cracks," which kept the house laughing.

Not a Dead Planet

Scriven Bolton, the English astronomer, acting upon scattered observations of his own, sets forth the theory that the moon is not dead, as has long been supposed, but that some of its mountains, at least, are active volcanoes.

OFFICERS ELECTED AT OUR SAVIOUR'S LUTHERAN CHURCH

The annual meeting of Our Saviour's Lutheran church was held in the church parlors Tuesday evening, January 17th. The following trustees, Otto Johnson and Orest Johnson, were elected for a period of three years. Mr. Orest Johnson was re-elected secretary for the ensuing year and L. E. Stokke, treasurer. Rev. L. E. Evans was appointed director of the choir and Miss Anna Huber was appointed organist. The financial report of the treasurer was submitted which showed that the church was in a very prosperous condition.

Uninterrupted Business

"I shall continue to direct our affairs from the jail," said the convicted felon. "All right," replied the trustee lieutenant, "maybe in the course of time we can get enough prison reform to remodel jails so that they'll have elevators and telephone exchanges and all the conveniences of regular office buildings."

INCOME TAX LEVY IN STATE IS OVER TWELVE MILLIONS

More than Fifty Percent of Assessed Income Tax Offset
by Personal Property Tax

MADISON, Wis.—The tax levy against incomes of Wisconsin individuals and corporations amounted to $12,256,756, of which $7,153,199 was against corporations and $5,103,557 against individuals, according to announcement today of Carroll Atwood, tax commissioner.

The personal property offset against income taxes, not yet available, is expected to equal more than 50 per cent of the tax so that cash collections will probably be less than $6,000,000, according to the commission.

Mr. Atwood in a statement says that "the income tax in the main is a city tax where wealth and large business is concentrated. Could the tax derived from the large manufacturing establishments in the rural districts immediately adjoining our large cities be eliminated from the amount credited to towns, it would serve to corroborate the statement that the income tax is euphemistically an urban and not a rural tax."

There has been a steady increase in the amount of the income tax levy from $3,482,883 in 1912 to $12,256,756 in 1921. The individual income tax has regularly been less than one-half of the total. An increase from $1,113,979 in 1920 to $5,103,557 in 1921 is shown in the individual income tax returns.

SEARCH FOR MISSING OAK PARK MINISTER

CHICAGO, Ill.—Search was being conducted here Wednesday for the Rev. William M. Taylor, pastor of St. Christopher's Episcopal church of Oak Park, said to have been missing since Saturday when he left the table at which his wife and three children were seated and wandered countless from the room.

According to information received by the Rev. George C. Stewart, brother-in-law of the missing man and pastor in an Evanston church, Rev. Taylor notified Bishop Anderson Saturday that he wished some one to care for his pastoral for two or three days.

CARNIVAL BOOSTERS TELL WINONA ABOUT BIG LA CROSSE EVENT

Party in Costume Advertise Carnival; "Kidnap" Bridegroom on Train

WINONA, Minn.—This city was invaded and captured by a host of La Crosse winter carnival boosters, who descended on the city Wednesday morning. About 75 men and women in carnival costumes paraded the streets, zig-zagged through the stores and in general yelled the news from the houseposts that La Crosse was staging a great program of winter sports at its second annual winter sports carnival, Jan. 25 to 28.

The Montague company's marching club, 32 of them, made a fine showing in their green and white suits. W. R. Montague, president of the company, was the leader of the band of marchers. Next in size was the boogie-woogie drum corps, who furnished the music for the marchers.

When the "invaders" reached the center of the business district, they formed a ring around Harry Williams, general chairman of the executive committee of the carnival and prime mover, instigator and enthusiast of the carnival, who announced the plans for the carnival to Winona people.

He shouted through a megaphone an invitation for all Winona to go to La Crosse and help in the celebration.

The La Crosse boosters had a special car in the morning train on the Milwaukee. The trip upriver was a regular picnic. The carnival boosters invaded the day coach ahead of their car and serenaded two newly-weds, ending it by "kidnaping" the bridegroom and carrying him into their special car. Whereupon the bride blushed and became terrified and the bridegroom wanted to fight. The under the bridegroom got the more fun the carnival boosters had. Finally they had all the fun, the bridegroom was returned to the still blushing and still terrified bride.

The boosters will return to La Crosse late in the afternoon.

Chats With Your Gas Man

No matter how much gas you burn, you cannot raise the temperature of water on your gas range above 212 degrees Fahrenheit, or boiling point. Therefore, once the pot starts to boil on the range, reduce the flame. This effects a saving.

Also remember that it takes no more gas to cook twelve potatoes than it does to cook six. Plan to have whole boiled or mashed potatoes the first day and creamed potatoes the second. Creamed potatoes are made from left-over cold boiled potatoes cut into cubes and reheated in a white sauce.

Again, plan your baking so as to get the most possible use out of the oven. When roasting a piece of meat, scrub, wipe dry and grease some potatoes. Place these in the oven on a pan and bake. When done, cut them in half lengthwise, scoop out the white portion and mix it with milk, butter and seasoning. Then pack it back into the shells, place in the broiler and toast until browned.

CHICAGO, Ill. — Charles ("Chick") Harley, who recently returned from his Chicago home to Ohio State university for advanced studies, has been taken to a sanitarium at Ishpeming, Mich., suffering from a partial nervous breakdown. A QUERY A DAY
by Billy Evans

If there is a runner on first, and the batter hits a home run, and the runner on first fails to touch third on his way to the plate, does that in any way affect the status of the batsman?

The failure of a preceding runner to touch a base, and is declared out for so doing, in no way affects the status of a succeeding runner.

However, if there were two out in such a case, the base runner would not be credited with a home run, since it is impossible to score a run ahead of a runner who is retired for the third out.

GOOD ROADS WELL LIGHTED

The general construction of good roads all over the country has been followed by a demand for the proper illumination, which promised to be a difficult problem until the experts of a large electrical manufacturing company began some investigations in this direction and devised a system which has been adequate. A special lamp has been devised for the purpose, but the success of the system is due to a triple arrangement of reflectors which throw an ample flood of light over every part of the highway. A two-mile stretch of roadway just outside of Schenectady has been equipped with this light. This roadway was reputed for its many accidents and since the installation of the new safety highway lighting lamps it is possible to maintain a speed of thirty miles an hour at night over this stretch with perfect safety to automobile operators and pedestrians and with only dimmer lights, because the highway is splendidly illuminated and while the roadway itself is sufficiently lighted to reveal objects and persons at a safe distance, the illumination of the new lighting system on this particular stretch of road eliminates the blinding glare from both the trolley cars and oncoming automobiles.

Had Not Been Held Prisoner Declares Bunting after Autopsy

PORTAGE, Wis.—Autopsy on the body of Phillip Houston, killed at Vienna, Wis., last Thursday and his body placed in a burning haystack near Portage, made Tuesday afternoon by Dr. C. H. Bunting, professor of pathology at the University of Wisconsin, disclosed that he had probably been shot from behind, that he had not been held prisoner before being killed, and that he used death instantly as a result of two shots from a .38-caliber revolver.

EXPECT LARGER FUR CATCH FOR PRESENT SEASON

THE PAS, Manitoba.—With more than a quarter of a million dollars worth of furs already marketed here, it was reported Wednesday that northern trappers would probably receive $2,000,000 for the season's catch. Numerous animals, with the added encouragement of high prices for all furs, have drawn 300 white and about 3,000 Indian trappers to the trails.

DEPORT GIRL BECAUSE OF INFATUATION FOR PHILADELPHIA MAN

Canadian Girl Faces Deportation for Fourth Time; Wants to be Near Him, She Says

PHILADELPHIA.—Beatrice Herbert, a young Canadian stenographer, three times deported by immigration authorities as a result of her infatuation for William Zinser, district manager of a touring agency, faces her fourth experience of the kind. She attracted attention by returning from the first of her enforced trips to Canada by airplane a year ago dodging the authorities. Alienists declare she is sane except on the subject of Zinser, who she met on a trip to India, and who complained to the police of her attentions. She pleaded not to be sent back again, declaring she had not bothered Zinser on this occasion, but had come to Philadelphia last Thursday under an assumed name, and obtained work here to be near him, according to the authorities.

Mr. Hughes, immigration commissioner, said he had no alternative than to deport her.

Normal Notes

The Athenian debating society held its regular meeting Monday night. The carnival and dance which was staged last Saturday night by a committee of students representing the various departments of the school was voted a huge success by all who attended.

The Physical Education Club is planning a masquerade party for the near future. The exact date has not yet been announced.

A plan whereby the students of the normal school and the children of the district surrounding the normal school may see good movies at a nominal price will be tried out next Friday night. Good pictures which have made successful runs in regular houses will be shown. If the show Friday night meets with success, it will be made a regular feature at the normal school.

Soundings are being made among the men of the school to find out if there is enough interest to warrant the founding of another debating society. Until two years ago there were two societies, but at that time they merged together.

The entire normal school student body is out in support of Josephine Upton for Carnival Queen. Many of the students are canvassing for votes.

Miss Trowbridge has been ill for the past few days and has been unable to meet her classes.

This is the last week of regular classes for this semester. Examinations will be held next week and the new semester will start on Jan. 30.

You are entitled to the benefit of the doubt
Why not take advantage of it?

The law is very careful in protecting the rights of a prisoner charged with a crime.

How about the Law of Common Sense and the man who has committed an error only? Isn't this a good place to use the benefit of the doubt, too?

Take your own case: If you don't know for sure whether tea or coffee is harming you, you do know that many are harmed by the drug element in tea and coffee, and that headaches, nervousness, or high blood pressure are symptoms which often tell that the drug, caffeine, is giving the nervous system too much jolt.

Probably you know, too, that some people can't drink a cup of tea or coffee at bed-time, and sleep well that night.

Where many have been harmed by tea and coffee, and you may be harmed, isn't it well to put the benefit of the doubt on your side before doubt becomes an unpleasant certainty?

There's charm without harm in Postum—a pure cereal beverage, rich in flavor, fully satisfying; the favorite table drink of thousands.

Suppose you try giving yourself this benefit today, and keep up the test for ten days; then judge the results. See if you don't feel better and work better. You can get Postum wherever good food and drink are sold or served.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in this) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.
